JAMESPORT A LEADER IN DAVIESS COUNTY HISTORY

By Miss Rosella Nation

Jamesport Correspondent

In the year 1834 a man by the name of Thomas M. Auberry settled in what is now Jamesport township, and was soon followed by many others. Mr. Auberry came here from Ray county and settled on a farm, now the north part of the town of Jamesport. Thomas Auberry was of the old backwoods life. He was an all-round kind of man, and could turn his hand and voice to anything. He was a preacher, doctor, farmer, horse trader, horse racer, surveyor, and many other things. His wife was the daughter of an Indian chief and when she died he helped bury her, assisting in the burial service, and placing her in her coffin as was customary with Indian rites.

The township did not settle rapidly. The first settlers located in the east part of the township. Many beleived the soil poor and that it was an impossibility to turn the sod of the prairies. "Auberry Grove" was the principal settlement in the township and that section for several years. In 1838 a number came from Virginia. Jas. Gallison, Richard Hill, John McClung, and Robert Miller all came from the same state and in the above named year. They were soon afterward followed by Isaac Jordin, James C. Hill, Jonathan Oxford, and James McNeel, and a number of others. It wasn't long until they had comfortable homes, built out of logs.

The nearest grist mill was on the river at Trenton. The farmers drove hogs and cattle to Brunswick where they were slaughtered and butchered and sold for $1.50 per hundred pounds. Sometimes they would have to stay there a week before the animals were killed. They would bring back sugar, coffee, and dry goods. Most of the time the farmers would go to Lexington for supplies which were shipped up the Missouri from St. Louis.

They did not have horse teams to plow the prairie land. It took six yolk of oxen to turn the sod over. They used a 24-inch plow with an iron shaesar and a wooden mould board.

There was plenty of wild game then, deer, turkey, prairie chicken, quail, etc. They always had plenty of wild meat in the house the year around. They didn't get much for the stock they sold but they didn't need much in those days as they made their clothes from wool and flax. The wool was washed and picked by hand, then taken to the carding machine where it was made into rolls. It was then spun on a hand-wheel into yarn and woven into cloth on a home-made loom. Then it was made into clothing by hand, no sewing machines in those days. A few years later those who could afford it bought calico and made their Sunday dresses. Calico was fifty cent a yard.

About 1841 the braced and inviting prairies were found to be as fertile as they were beautiful and soon a large portion of the prairie had been broken up into fields. Once roamed by wild game the section was beginning to fill up with lowing herds of cattle and sheep.

Some people nowadays might think that marriage was a drawback in those pioneer days but they would be quite wrong. The young people of those days believed that success would attend their united efforts and a log cabin, a puncheon floor, a couple of pots, a little corn meal and venison and a ham or two were considered a pretty good wedding outfit, with the world before them.

In the year 1840 the first wedding in Jamesport township took place. The contracting parties were Richard Hill and Miss Ann Gillilan. Isaac Jordin, a justice of the peace, said the words that made them man and wife. They went to housekeeping at once and amid the duties of every day life they passed their honeymoon. They spent many years of happiness together and lived to a good old age but once in awhile a cup of sorrow would touch their lips. Hands life is changeable and if the hours of affliction never came happiness itself would be less sought for.

The first child born was James C. Hill, son of Richard and Ann Hill, whose birth was in 1841. The first death was a child of Mr. Ligett, who died in 1838 and was buried in the Hill cemetery, which is still in use today. The first regular physician who settled in the township was Dr. Carr. He was here about ten years, then left and went to Memphis, Tenn., where he died a few years later. The first minister was Abraham Millic of the Methodist church. He preached in a log cabin built on section 27, just east of Auberry Grove. Along about that time Rev. Robert Morgan, a Presbyterian minister held services at the home of Robert Miller. The first school was in an old log ~~xxxxx~~ house on the Auberry farm. Lewis McCoy being the teacher. This was in 1838. He received six dollars per month for six pupils and boarded with various families in the vicinity. The first school house was built in the township on the John Hill farm and Jas. H. B. McFerran, who afterwards went to Gallatin and became a lawyer and banker, was the first teacher. He had seven or eight pupils and taught for two dollars per pupil for a three-month term

Mrs. Rachel Miller and Eleanor Gillilan did the first weaving in the township, not only homespun for dresses, etc., but also wove carpets.

The kitchen and family room in the houses in those days were all in one. They could do very well if they had a puncheon floor, but a log cabin which had two rooms and a loft boasted a parlor. This room had a handsome rag carpet, beautiful in color and with fancy stripes. It was here the young folks did their courting and used split-bottomed chairs instead of sofas. They were well made and would hold two as well as one.

The early members of the Gallison family came from Ireland about 1790 and located in Virginia. Jas. Gallison was born in Pocahontas county, Virginia, Nov. 8, 1811. He was the son of James and Susan Edmiston Gallison, natives of Virginia. He was reared and educated in Virginia and when he was 27 years old he left his boyhood home for Missouri. In those days this was a long, long journey. He made the trip with John Gillilan and family and others who were headed for Missouri in covered wagons. He drove one of the four-horse teams all the way, stopping at Huntsville in the latter part of November. He stayed there that winter and in the spring of 1839 they came to Daviess county. He then entered 160 acres just west of Jamesport. The Mormons had built a double log cabin on this quarter section but they left this part of the county in the fall of 1837 and located at Independence, Mo. Thus he had a log cabin on his land and he made good use of it for he lived alone

...long years. He had been heard to say there were lots of weeks that he wouldn't ...soul, just his horses and dogs. For a long time it was four miles to his nearest ... He never did go back to visit any of his folks or the old home place. His brother, ... Callison, came out here in 1850 and stayed with him two years.

On March 31, 1852 he was married to Miss Rebecca J. Gillilan daughter of John and Mary ...illan, natives of West Virginia. Mr. and Mrs. Callison became the parents of ten children.

In 1857 Jamesport was located and laid off into lots. In 1860 the population numbered 59. In 1870 the township was organized under the name of Grant and the census of that year showed 784 inhabitants, nine of whom were colored. In 1880 the census gives the township population as 1,379.

The first officers elected in Grant township were elected in 1872 and were as follows: Robert C Williams, supervisor; Isaiah W. Jones, clerk; Eli Kehler, assessor; William K. P. Allen, collector; John W. Warren, constable. On the 7th day of November 1872, the name Grant was changed to Jamesport township its present name.

There are very few towns which have a prettier location than the town of Jamesport. On July 25, 1871, the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific railroad reached Jamesport. The population at that time was about 150. persons, Practically the whole town and surrounding territory turned out to celebrate the coming of the railroad.

On August 6, 1872, an act of incorporation was passed by the county court and from that time on it has been the City of Jamesport. The court appointed Franklin Callison, N. G, Cruzen, Maro Thomas, A. Barnes, and I, N. Jones as a board of trustees for the town, to hold their offices until their successors should be elected and qualified.

RICHARD HILL
FAMILY REUNION

SUNDAY, AUGUST 21, 1955

HILL

Richard Hill, The Pioneer

Richard Hill, a Revolutionary soldier and Indian fighter, it is believed, came to this section of Pocahontas County from North Carolina soon after the armies of the Revolution were disbanded. He married Miss Nancy McNeel, daughter of John McNeel, a pioneer of the Hillsboro settlement. After their marriage they settled west of Hillsboro on Hill's Creek, and today rough, native-carved stones mark their resting places on a hill overlooking Hill's Creek. Hill's Creek and the Hill Cemetery can be seen from an overlook in the Park, where each year the Richard Hill Family Reunion is held.

The first Reunion and the organization of the group was held in 1950. Droop Mt. State Park was selected as a permanent meeting place for the Reunion. Oldest member of the group present for the first meeting was Uncle Joseph Hill, Summersville, W. Va. The youngest member present was Beverly Ann Hill of Hillsboro. One traveling greatest distance to Reunion was Henry Hill of Alhambra, California. Oldest married couple, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Burr, Renick, W. Va. Richard Hill and Anna Gillilan, of Greenbrier county, W. Va., were the first couple married in Jamesport township. They were the parents of five children, the oldest, James C, Hill, being the first boy born in Jamesport township. Mrs. Hill died in 1853 and Richard Hill was married again to Miss Agnes Miller, of Jamesport, three children being born to this union.

Jas. Callison, who came to Daviess county 100 years ago, settling at Jamesport. He and his brother Franklin Callison, owned the land where Jamesport now stands, and when Dr. J T. Allen laid off the lots for the town, the new city was named Jamesport all three men having that noun for their first name. Descendants of James Callison, now living in Daviess county, now run into the fourth generation.

Mr. and Mrs. John C. Gillilan, pioneer Daviess Coubtians, who came to Daviess county 100 years ago, 1837, and lived near Jamesport. The clothes they wore when the above picture was taken, were typical of those worn in this section a century ago. The picture from which this cut was made is a tintype, touched with color.

THE RICHARD HILL CEMETERY

Compiled by

Hubert Taylor

March 1988

THE RICHARD HILL CEMETERY

The Hill Cemetery is located on the brow of a ridge between the Hills Creek Valley and the Bruffeys Creek Valley. The land is now (1988) owned by Leroy Rose, and before his ownership, it was known as the Ryder Place. The cemetery is about 200 yards east of the original home site of Richard Hill. Most of the hand-made grave markers are sandstone from the hillside west of the Emmanuel Church along the Bruffeys Creek. John Bruffey was the stone carver who did most of the work. He must have prepared several stones in advance as there are stones in the cemetery with decorative carvings but no names or dates on them. He died in 1874.

A stone indicates that Cornelius OHOVER was the first person buried there. Nothing is remembered about him other than he was an Irishman, and no dates appear on the stone. The oldest dated stone appears to be for Jesse Morrison died 1805, the son of James Morrison and Elizabeth Callison.

Richard Hill was first known to be in what is now Pocahontas County in 1786. The Greenbrier County Personal Property Tax 1787 List "B" indicates that he owned two horses. He was married by that time and probably owned land. He purchased land from William & Sarah Renick in 1792 (240 acres) and 1799 (350 acres).
